Introduction

The International Year of Chemistry 2011 (IYC 2011) is an initiative of the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry (IUPAC) and the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). Under the motto "Chemistry our life, our future", it is a worldwide celebration of the achievements of chemistry and its contributions to the well-being of humankind. To this sequel a National Seminar on “Future Oriented Techniques and Prospects in Chemical Sciences” which has been scheduled 15th to 17th December 2011 at Department of Chemistry, ISLE, IPS Academy Indore. We welcome you to participate in the seminar and contribute to valuable discussion with eminent scientist & academicians of the country.

Preamble

The scientific development of a country becomes the yard-stick of its progress and greatness. Realizing fully the paramount importance of chemical sciences in the reconstructions of India, so vibrant areas of research in chemistry enables to face various challenges and to shape future oriented development. The seminar is organized keeping in mind the requirements of the future aspects of chemical sciences and to develop technology accordingly. The seminar will provide a opportunity for interaction among students research scholars, teachers and eminent scientists on the theme area.

About Department of Chemistry and IPS Academy

Indore Professional Studies Academy (IPSA) is one of the largest educational hub-premises, playing a major role to develop Indore as Central India's most preferred educational centre. IPS Academy is one of the premier institutes, running more than 71 courses in the field of Sciences, Pharmacy, Architecture, Fashion Designing, Management, Journalism, and Library Science. It has a huge 51 Acre lush green campus with all the facilities in campus. Since its inception IPS Academy has endeavored to set standards par excellence by providing quality education in different streams of sciences. Institute of Science & Lab Education offers UG & PG courses in Physics, Chemistry, Maths & Biotechnology. Faculty members of Chemistry department are dedicated and well qualified hence they are distinctly oriented towards students and academic growth. Department organizes various activities like Quiz Competitions, Intercollege Project Presentation Competition National Seminars, and workshops etc. The measure of a department is the success of students. Post graduate students achieved ninety to hundred percent results with always 4-5 merit positions. We aspire to develop skilled chemists and professionals who will be conversant with their disciplines. Most of our alumni hold top positions in pharmaceutical industries, academics as well. These achievements have made the department the most productive one.
